Westland set to OK new marijuana ordinance

Julie Brown
Staff Writer

> The proposed ordinance follows discussions with business people and residents which Mayor William R. Wild calls a "strategic measured approach."

Following 10 study sessions, members of the Westland City Council on Oct. 7 introduced an ordinance amendment allowing recreational marijuana businesses in the city. The measure is expected to be on the agenda for a vote at the 7 p.m. Monday, Oct. 21, city council meeting at Westland City Hall.

Mohamed Ayoub, city department of planning director, said that details of the discussion at the previous study sessions, maps and more information about the proposed ordinance are available on the city website for public review. City leaders face a Nov. 1 deadline to act on the measure, which follows November 2018 statewide approval of recreational marijuana use in Michigan.

"There has been no interest in the mall," said Ayoub of Westland Shopping Center. It is within the City Centre which under the introduced ordinance will not have marijuana businesses.

Westland Police Chief Jeff Jedrusik said there is a lot of uncertainty surrounding the sale of both medicinal and recreational marijuana.

"I think it's just so new they're (city leaders) just waiting to see how it goes."

The Oct. 7 meeting included a suggestion from Councilman Bill Johnson that businesses be limited to four in industrial areas. Councilman Jim Hart noted, "I haven't heard a lot of positives from people," citing either indifference or "not in my backyard."

Hart added at the meeting the upcoming city council election will change that body's makeup, suggesting a wait and "more time."

Jedrusik explained that the issue now is recreational or medical dispensaries, which some communities including Canton and Livonia have opted to prohibit,

Ayoub said there is a lot of industry interest in Westland, "Yes, too much interest." Residents have objected to facilities, including zoning concerns. Ayoub said he receives emails, phone calls and voicemails daily from cannabis industry people.

Jedrusik noted that Westland, the state's 10th largest city, favored recreational marijuana by two-thirds in the November 2018 vote. "That goes to show there's interest or demand for the product," the police chief

History of Plymouth is focus of recent documentary film

Julie Brown
Staff Writer

Mark Salloum, an 18-year Plymouth Township resident, knows his community well. His film about the history of the Plymouth community will soon air at the Penn Theatre in downtown Plymouth.

"I'm just thrilled to make my first feature-length film," said Salloum, who owns and runs Canton-based Highway Media. "I think the greatest part is just watching the evolution of this town."

He focused the film work on people and events "that have formed this community. I think that's what really will make it great for the viewing audience."

"Plymouth, Michigan: A Rich History" will air at 7 p.m. Friday and Saturday, Nov. 15-16, as well as 3 p.m. and 5 p.m. Sunday, Nov. 17, at the Penn Theatre, across from Kellogg Park in Plymouth. It will also air 7 p.m. Thursday, Nov. 21, there.

Mark Salloum

Salloum said tickets are selling well.

"They're actually selling pretty quickly," he said. Tickets are $20 for the Friday VIP/Red Carpet gala, $10 for other showings.

"It (the film) basically looks at the nearly 200-year history of the town. We take people on a 200-year journey, the good, the bad, and everything in between," he said.

Those topics encompass: local schools; the air rifle industry; the Alter car history and production; early settlers who arrived from New York state; the 1960s fire that destroyed the P&A movie theater and the origins of the Plymouth Fall Festival.

Salloum was aware of the recent 150th anniversary of Plymouth.

"My first thought was Kellogg Park," he said of early plans for the documentary.

As the work began and money became available, his nine interviews expanded to 19 people. Dennis Neubacher narrates the film: "He sort of helps weave things together," said Salloum.

Patrick Johnson from the Michigan Philharmonic composed the music for the film, which impressed Salloum.

"I was just reinvigorated" by hearing it. It ranges from Johnson's writings to music of the 1800s.

A Vimeo posting of the trailer has drawn a significant number of followers since it was posted in late September. Salloum said he finds people beyond Plymouth are interested in the production.

"It does seem like they're coming from different communities," said Salloum. "Very rewarding. It got me choked up. I'm looking forward to seeing how people enjoy this movie."

He does promotional marketing and branding through his firm, and holds a degree in film production/marketing. He compares his love of cooking to the new documentary, adding "I love when people enjoy a meal I prepare."

Defrocked priest pleads guilty to assault charge

> Had Casey been convicted by the jury of the more serious charge, he faced 15 years in prison.

Patrick Casey, a former priest who served in both Canton Township and Westland, will be sentenced on charges of misdemeanor aggravated assault on Nov. 20 in Wayne County Circuit Court.

Casey, 56, entered a guilty plea as a jury deliberated his guilt on charges of third-degree criminal sexual assault. His plea to the lesser charge ended jury involvement in the case. Casey was accused by a man who claimed that he and the defrocked priest had a sexual encounter on Jan. 17, 2013. The accuser said he sought the rite of confession from Casey who agreed to meet with him at the former St. Theodore of Canterbury Church in Westland. The man, who is gay, claimed that he and Casey engaged in sexual acts at that meeting.

Had Casey been convicted by the jury of the more serious charge, he faced 15 years in prison. His confession to the lesser charge will subject him to a maximum sentence of 1 year in prison. He was one of five former priests charged with 21 counts of criminal sexual conduct in May by Michigan Attorney General Dana Nessel.

Attorney Stephen Rabaut represented Casey at the trial and acknowledged the friendship between his client and the accuser, but he characterized their meetings as instigated by the complainant and said they met every three weeks in early 2012. Rabaut said the sexual encounter was consensual in nature and Casey admitted to the sexual acts.

Prosecuting Attorney Danielle Joyce Hagaman-Clark argued that the case was about coercion.

Casey, who served at St. Thomas A Becket Catholic Church in Canton prior to moving to St. Theodore's, was dismissed from the clerical state and stripped of all priestly duties by the Archdiocese on Aug. 1, 2018.

He will learn his sentence Nov. 20.

Van Buren hires first full-time firefighter force

Van Buren Township officials have hired the first-ever full-time fire department in the community.

Members of the board of trustees approved the hiring of six full-time firefighters during the Oct. 1 meeting by a unanimous vote.

"We expect you to save our lives someday," township Supervisor Kevin McNamara said to the newly-hired firefighters, sworn into office immediately by township Clerk Leon Wright.

"Today, we are preparing to move the township into its next phase of growth in the area of public safety. The proposal today raises the level of security to our residents in the areas of fire safety and quickens our ability to respond to our residents' medical emergencies," McNamara said at the meeting.

"Over the last four years our part-time fire fighting and medical response force has dwindled. Due to national unemployment, the country is experiencing a shortage of firefighters entering the fire service trades. It has become increasingly difficult to get firefighters to come to work as part-timers. And when we do get a part-timer, they increasingly are finding full-time jobs in short order with other fire departments. This leaves us with yet another shift that needs to be manned by others.

"This has caused us to become extremely dependent on overworked part-timers (making time and a half) and has forced a reliance on blended-rate officers," he said.

McNamara explained that the proposal before the board members was to augment the 100 percent part-time fire department with the six full-time employees. He said the remainder of the fire department staffing would remain the same. He reminded the board trustees that the proposal had been under consideration for a year and had been extensively discussed. He said that the costs had been reviewed by the township auditing firm, Plante-Moran. Following the unanimous vote, Wright administered the oath to Battalion Chief Ron Folks, Lt. Doug Doty, Sgt. Aaron Ladach, Sgt. Ryan Smith, Firefighter Dan Walter and Firefighter Bronson Campbell. All six were current firefighters who applied for the full-time jobs.

"What an exciting time for the Public Safety Department," said Public Safety Director Greg Laurain, noting they have had difficulty in recruiting paid-per-call candidates and this will give them better control in staffing the stations.

"I'm speechless," said Trustee Kevin Martin. "When I was first elected, I wanted to see a full-time fire department. I'm proud to be a part of this."

Grant funds special needs at Aquatic Center

The Summit on the Park Aquatic Center now has four aquatic wheelchairs, as well as other adaptive swimming aids purchased with grant funding from the Christopher and Dana Reeve Foundation National Paralysis Resource Center. These new features will enable individuals with special needs to independently enter and exit pool areas without using their own wheelchairs, which could potentially become damp or wet. Additional adaptable water items will also be available, all free of charge, to members of the public with disabilities to assist with water navigation.

The $10,831 award was one of several grants awarded by the Reeve Foundation as part of seven High Impact Grants totaling $232,266 and 73 Direct Effect Quality of Life Grants totaling $1,244,263.

"These aquatic wheelchairs are an incredible resource for Summit on the Park guests with disabilities, who will now be able to access our aquatic environment, including pools and showers, and not get their own wheelchair wet," said Brad Chiasson, aquatic recreation specialist. The aquatic adaptive equipment will also enable individuals with disabilities to take advantage of additional water activities by making their water experience more comfortable for them."

A special staff in-service training took place in August with Polly Swingle, PT, from the Recovery Project in an effort to prepare Summit Aquatic Center staff to work with individuals with disabilities on accessing swimming areas, as well as aquatic safety.

The Christopher & Dana Reeve Foundation is dedicated to curing spinal cord injury by funding innovative research and improving the quality of life for people living with paralysis through grants, information, and advocacy

"There are several components that go into these projects," said Mark Bogosian, director, Quality of Life Grants Program. "If we can provide programmatic and other financial supports, even in the short term with the Direct Effect grants, these organizations can now focus on executing their mission, leading to greater success, expansion, and sustainability."

The Reeve Foundation funded a wide variety of projects from employment programs to accessible playground projects and adaptive sports programs. This foundation meets all 20 of the Better Business Bureau standards for charity accountability and hold the BBB Charity Seal. YMCA moves Plymouth offices to PARC building

The Plymouth Family YMCA will become the newest tenant at the Plymouth Arts and Recreation Complex (PARC).

The two facilities have already established a strong community partnership, an official noted. The YMCA has been using PARC facilities for more than 2 years to facilitate programs including basketball, t-ball, Youth Advisory Board activities and school break camps. PARC and the YMCA also collaborate on the Plymouth Preschool Enrichment Program (PEP), a comprehensive schedule of classes for preschool children ages 3 to 5 years including music, dance, yoga, sports, and basic cooking skills.

Gail Grieger, executive director of PARC, said this PARC YMCA partnership is a win for the Plymouth community.

"We are delighted to welcome the Plymouth Family YMCA to PARC. With its long history of providing high quality recreation opportunities, as well as other community programs, the YMCA will definitely complement the other arts and education organizations that call PARC home," she said.

"Our two organizations have a synergy, we are both committed to Plymouth area children and families. At the YMCA we believe everyone should have positive experiences to support them in realizing their potential," said Helene Weir, CEO, YMCA of Metropolitan Detroit.

Kelly Plocharczyk who serves as the executive director of the Plymouth Family YMCA added, "This partnership allows us to do more for our neighbors together than either of us can achieve alone," she said.

The former Plymouth Family YMCA building at 248 Union St. is listed for sale. A Re/Max for sale sign went up late last week in the front yard of the Union Street property and a Re/Max listing agent confirmed the property is for sale at $349,000. It is zoned for B1 office/living space, and has an apartment with a separate entrance.

Plymouth City Commission sets infrastructure projects

Members of the Plymouth City Commission have approved a $6.9 million plan for infrastructure improvements throughout the community.

The new plan includes repairs to Farmer, Dewey, Main and Junction and Ann streets in 2020, the first year of the program. In the second year of the plan, repairs would take place on North Holbrook, Hamilton, Maple, Rover Oaks and Hartsough streets. In the third year of the plan, 2023, repairs are scheduled to take place on Harvey, Wing, Spring, Evergreen, William, Simpson, South Union and Hamilton street.

Upgrades to crosswalks at the Main Street and Hartsough intersection and the Main Street and Church intersection are included in the three-year plan.

The improvements will be funded with the upcoming roads bond ballot proposal on the Nov. 5 ballot and the repairs are contingent on the approval of the bond by voters, officials said.

Commission members noted, too, that the plan is subject to change based on the site conditions in areas of planned repair, equipment availability, bid pricing, contractor availability and scheduling, supply and parts availability and weather.

Along with the proposed infrastructure plan, commission members approved the Local Agency Pavement Warranty Program. The city will now consider a local pavement warranty on each paving project which is more than a $2 million expense and includes the spending of state or federal funds.

In addition, commission members approved an updated version of the current Sanitary Sewer Service Agreement with the Western Wayne Utilities Authority and Wayne County which also includes Plymouth and Canton townships.

INKSTER - WAYNE - WESTLAND

Grant will fund hiring of 13 Westland firefighters

Westland has been awarded a $2,387,804.25 federal grant to fund the hiring of 13 new firefighters for three years.

The Staffing for Adequate Fire and Emergency Response grant (SAFER) was awarded through the Federal Emergency Management Authority (FEMA). The grant requires a city match funding portion of 25 percent or $322,676.32 in years one and two. The third year requires a city match funding portion of 65 percent or $838,958.25. The average annual cost to the city for the increased emergency staffing will be 38 percent during the three years of the grant.

SAFER grants are awarded to communities to ensure compliance with National Fire Protection standards that relate to the staffing of fire stations, response times, and overall assembly of force to efficiently deliver service more effectively and safely, officials said. The grant assists fire departments with staffing and deployment capabilities to respond to emergencies and assure adequate protection from fire and other hazards.

> There is no doubt that the additional manpower awarded through the SAFER grant will play a vital role in increasing the efficiency of the fire department.

"There is no doubt that the additional manpower awarded through the SAFER grant will play a vital role in increasing the efficiency of the fire department to continue to provide the excellent service Westland residents deserve," commented Westland Fire Chief Michael Stradtner. "It is our intention to begin hiring as soon as possible and take full advantage of this 'big win' for the City of Westland.

Only a small percentage of the thousands of departments who apply are awarded SAFER grants, a spokesman said.

"These grants are very competitive as communities across the county are faced with difficulties adequately staffing their public safety departments," commented Mayor William R. Wild. "Westland is fortunate for this opportunity to ensure the fire department can continue to deliver the service residents have to come to expect and deserve."

Warm welcome

Members of the Wayne City Council welcomed new firefighter Tyler Fugate to the public safety department earlier this month during their regular meeting. Fugate took his oath of office from City Clerk Tina Stanke and was welcomed with a round of applause from the council members and audience.

said.

He noted that pharmacies are often the targets of robberies and break-ins from criminals seeking prescription drugs and that party stores are also vulnerable to crime. It's illegal to smoke marijuana openly in places like parks, said Jedrusik.

Residents on Oct. 7 noted concerns about the proximity of any marijuana businesses to schools or homes.

"This could potentially take the grow operations out of the neighborhoods," Jedrusik said.

He added that credit unions now handle some financial transactions for the cannabis industry. He added that officers now see many drivers in Westland under the influence of marijuana, equally as many as drunken drivers in his city.

The proposed ordinance follows discussions with business people and residents which Mayor William R. Wild calls a "strategic measured approach. We're not expecting we'll have to change the ways we patrol," said Wild after the Oct. 7 meeting.

"We've been trying to be as transparent as we can," Wild said, noting the Oct. 7 meeting continued for four hours.

Ayoub explained in an interview the proposed eight recreational licenses would include: two retail/provisioning; one for a secure transporter (vehicles and an office at the site for transporting goods); one safety compliance facility to include testing for THC and foreign objects; one microbusiness for growing, processing, and selling on a small scale; and three collocated facilities.

The collocated facilities and microbusiness would be in industrial areas.

The two retail and safety compliance licenses, said Ayoub, could be in a retail plaza. He said Wild wants to protect the City Centre "because of the unknowns and to keep it more of a retail district."

The Westland study sessions have drawn dozens of hopefuls "looking to establish some type of business related to marijuana," said Ayoub. He cited the City of Pontiac citizen initiative to allow such businesses, adding, "We're trying not to get in that situation."

On Oct. 21 the Westland City Council could opt out, approve or amend the ordinance.

Currently, there are 26 licensed medical marijuana dispensaries in Detroit, three in River Rouge, one in Inkster and two in the City of Wayne.

Sample ballots now accessible on Inkster city website

Voters in Inkster can already get a look at the upcoming Nov. 5 general election ballot by visiting the city website.

Candidates include incumbent Mayor Byron H. Nolen and Patrick Wimberly who is challenging him for the mayoral office.

There are only five candidates for the six available seats on the Inkster Public Library Board including Stephanie Abernathy-Lane; Dosye A. Thompson; DeAndra Chrystal-Rikay Watley; Michael Wells and Ruth E. Williams.

Candidates for Inkster City Council in district One include Aaron Sims and George V. Williams; in District 2 Charmaine Kennedy and LaGina Washington; District 3, Christha Bond and Sandra K. Watley; District 4, Steven Chisholm and Rebecca J. Daniels; District 5, Kim Howard and Kelli Lindsey; District 6 Connie Rose Mitchell and Dennard Shaw.

CANTON - NORTHVILLE

City of Northville welcomes public safety grants

Northville City Police Chief Alan Maciag and Fire Chief Steve Ott had some good news for members of the city council during their regular meeting Oct. 7.

Maciag reported that the Bureau of Justice Assistance had awarded the city department a grant of $1,771 for the purchase of new bulletproof vests. The grant, Maciag said, will cover the cost of new, damaged and expired vests that have reached the 5-year efficiency expectancy. The funds will be effective from April 1 this year until Aug. 31, 2021. He also explained that the department is in need of a new upgraded evidence room and that he has applied for a grant to help fund that effort. He said he has also applied for a grant from the city insurance carrier, MMRMA, for a camera system.

Ott said that that the fire department was awarded three major grants from the Federal Emergency Management Authority (FEMA) Assistant to Firefighters program. He said the funding would be used to purchase a new ambulance, new hoses and new radios for the department. He noted, too, that proposed on-site Firefighter 1 and 2 training may be covered by a pending grant for which the department has applied. If the plan is implemented, certified staff members will conduct the six-month training program necessary for firefighters to attain the certifications. Ott said the program would be free to those who attend and that it would help retain graduates who have completed the training.

Members of the city council also approved a request from the Department of Public Works to participate in a SEMCOG water quality data program as part of a new Southeast Michigan Infrastructure Asset Management Program.

State official shares Canton Road concerns

Julie Brown
Staff Writer

State Sen. Dayna Polehanki is among many individuals concerned about the dangers of making left turns at Lilley and Ford roads in Canton Township.

"We're going to get to work on that," Polehanki told Canton Board of Trustees members at the Oct. 8 meeting.

> We're going to get to work on that.

Polehanki, elected in November 2018, praised Canton's B.L.O.C.K., Lead Like a Girl, and Be a Model Man for their youth leadership efforts. She thanked Canton Clerk Michael Siegrist for his work in increasing absentee voting numbers.

Siegrist asked her that evening about a Growth Works program helping those in addiction recover, with Polehanki agreeing it needs to be funded. "Disappointed, not done fighting," she said.

She was joined by Congresswoman Haley Stevens, who addressed national issues and their local impact. Stevens has talked with Canton Supervisor Pat Williams about recycling and recycling technology, an issue for most communities.

Stevens cited the Conference of Western Wayne work as an asset. She noted burdens on recycling are often shouldered by municipalities.

Canton Trustee Steven Sneideman told Polehanki, "Keep tough with us on Ford Road" and its roadwork funding.

Canton Trustee Sommer Foster also asked about road funds, adding "Let them (in Lansing) know the current formula is antiquated."

Polehanki also shared her Lansing phone number, (517) 373-7350.

Tribute Beatles to perform

Celebrating the 50th anniversary of Abbey Road, the band will play the entire album live followed by a set of greatest hits. The show spans the Fab Four's entire catalogue with four costume changes and authentic Liverpool accents, wit and charm. To purchase tickets ($17 - $45 VIP, including premium seating, a meet and greet with Julia Baird and the band, and a CD download) visit cantonvillagetheater.org. Village Theater is an all-ages venue and is located at 50400 Cherry Hill Road, Canton.

Canton Historical commission seeking new members

The Canton Historical Society, a volunteer organization dedicated to the preservation of local historical information and resources in the township, is currently accepting letters of interest to fill three board member positions.

The Canton Historical Society offers valuable opportunities for individuals interested in helping keep the history of Canton alive. Once appointed, these new board members will begin a three-year term starting in 2020.

"The Canton Historical Society is looking forward to welcoming new board members to help safeguard Canton's historical identity and build on all of the educational and preservation successes that our organization has achieved to date," said Bill Tesen, Canton Historical Society president. "It's important to continually integrate fresh ideas to help effectively retain Canton's rich past for future generations to come."

Canton Historical Society board members will help with the preservation of artifacts, relics, documents and historic sites. The society will provide historical education to both the members and the public through educational, cultural, social programs and projects.

Interested individuals should contact Tesen via email to btesen@wowway.com no later than Tuesday, Oct. 29..

The theater entrance suffered significant damage during the incident.
